Electrical and Computer Engineering University of Detroit Mercy Tenure Track Assistant Professor Position

The Department of Electrical and Computer Engineering and Computer Science at the University of Detroit Mercy College of Engineering and Science invites applicants for a tenure track Assistant Professor position in Electrical and Computer Engineering starting December 2018 or August 2019. An earned doctorate in Electrical Engineering or a closely related field is required.

The successful candidate at UDM is an effective and enthusiastic teacher-scholar at the undergraduate and graduate level, developing innovative teaching strategies and curriculum. Skill in hands-on design projects and laboratory work is a requirement. Candidates will be expected to teach and develop undergraduate and graduate courses and laboratories, develop a research program involving the supervision of undergraduate, masters and doctoral students, and write grants and publish in refereed journals and conferences.

The department offers two ABET accredited undergraduate Electrical Engineering programs: a traditional EE program, and a program providing a focus in Robotics and Mechatronic Systems. Department degrees are offered at the bachelors, masters, and doctoral level. The small classes, excellent facilities, and close collegial relationships make teaching at Detroit Mercy exciting and rewarding. The College's faculty forms a vibrant community of teaching scholars with a strong focus on professional and academic mentorship of students. Interdisciplinary collaboration is encouraged and supported through dedicated facilities such as the Department's Advanced Mobility Laboratory and the College's newly dedicated Center for Automotive Systems Engineering Education. U.S. News and World Report has ranked Detroit Mercy in the top tier of Midwest Regional Universities for the past 17 years, and the Wall Street Journal/Times Higher Education College Rankings for 2018 place Detroit Mercy at 5th in Michigan and 188 Nationwide.

Michigan's largest, most comprehensive private University, the University of Detroit Mercy is an independent Jesuit-Mercy Catholic institution of higher education sponsored by the Society of Jesus and the Religious Sisters of Mercy. The university seeks qualified candidates who will contribute to the University's mission, diversity and excellence of its academic community. The University of Detroit Mercy is an Equal Opportunity Affirmative Action Employer with a culturally diverse faculty and student body and welcomes persons of all races and backgrounds.

Candidates should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of research plans, and statement of teaching philosophy, and should arrange to have three letters of reference sent. Interested candidates should apply by visiting <https://udmercy.peopleadmin.com/>.

Review of applications begins immediately and continues until the position is filled.
