

Sustainable and Renewable Energy Systems (SRES) Faculty Position

University of Wisconsin-Platteville invites applications for an assistant professor position in Sustainable and Renewable Energy Systems program. This is a nine-month, full-time, tenure-track position starting on August 22, 2018. Review of applications will begin on January 15, 2018 and continue until the position is filled. For complete position description and to apply online, please visit: <https://www.uwplatt.edu/careers>